

Donnie Plumly

I work in a world of experimentation and the unknown. Where the term "What if" is used often. Turning a "What if" into an actual experience or product is what excites me; keeps me wondering about all the other "What ifs" in life.

Experience

Team One

Creative Technologist

June 2014 - Current

May 2013-July 2013 internship

Building 7ft mind controlled guitars to a life size diorama is never what I thought I would be getting paid for. The tasks are always changing and it makes work not so much like work.

PeakLogix

Creative

July 2012-Jan 2013

Photography, videography, and case study template master for a company that stream lines productivity for Fortune 500 companies. Got the chance to do things out of the norm and learned what goes into Ramen Noodles.

Habitat for Humanity's ReStore

Social Media Intern

Sept. 2011-Dec 2011

Posted daily on multiple social media platforms as a bubbly woman in her mid-twenties. It was very challenging and helped me find my inner woman.
